Jiri to Everest Trek

Trip Overview

The classic trekking route in Nepal trodden by veteran climbers since the inception of Everest Expedition..

This trek is best suited to the trekkers who want to skip the thrilling flight to Lukla, take more joys of walking, and enjoy the fun of treading the classic trails trodden by Hillary and Tenzing back in 1953. The trek begins from Jiri and eventually traverses through Lamjura Pass and Tragsindo Pass eventually leading you to Namche Bazaar. Namche Bazaar is a beautiful village where you will encounter with the Sherpas and their incredible culture.

After the trek of around two weeks, you will be able to catch the spectacular view of Mount Everest standing at the elevation of 5545m at Kalapatthar. Until you reach here, you will travel via Gokyo to Gorak Shep crossing the Cho La Pass. The turquoise glacial lakes of Gokyo will surely leave mesmerized and the challenge across Cho La Pass to Khumbu Valley will no doubt test your walking endurance.

The major highlights of the trek are the diverse landscape, flora and faunas along with the Himalayan Sherpa Culture. You will see the breathtaking view of mountains like Cho Yuo, Ama Dablam, Nuptse and Luptse. A thrilling flight to Kathmandu from Lukla will give a great conclusion to the trek.

Regarding the safety while undertaking this trekking adventure, the entire infrastructures of the trails have been assessed and declared safe.
