Langtang Circuit Trek

Trip Overview

Get ready to go around the famous Langtang Region, which has recently restricted for trekkers; however will soon begin to cater the amazing holidays as before...

Langtang Circuit Trek takes you to "the valley of glaciers and Frozen Lake", where trekkers get to see the wonderful mountainous landscape. Throughout the trek that treads the trail along the beautiful valleys, we get to see spectacular mountains soaring up to the sky. The lower part of valley caters exceptionally lush pine forest, pleasant pace Himalayan Rivers and swift highland streams, rugged rock and snow-capped peaks, grassy downs and meadows strewn with daisies and wild primulas.

As the trek gains height to the upper part of the valley the pleasantly moving liquid highways manifest anger with rapid torrents, the high passes to get across to another hamlet are covered with mist and the small lakes with icebergs floating cater sparkle because of brightness when sunlight falls on them.

Langtang Circuit Trek has been suspended temporarily because of the devastating quake that had made huge adverse impact on the region. The renovation process regarding the trails and the teahouse enroute has begun and soon the trek shall be opened for trekkers. The Circuit Trek also goes around Holy Gosainkunda lake, which holds highly believed myth amongst the Hindus. The myth says in ancient days Lord Shiva drank the water from the spring that fed the lake. Buddhists also believe the landmark sacred because of the holy myth that states Milerapa walked across the lake that had the water of God.
